

you comply with certain rules of conduct. These rules are given to you on a separate sheet of paper. You must not talk with other participants during the experiment. We do not address questions in plenary. If you have questions or problems along the way, raise your hand and one of us will come to you. All mobile phones must be switched off during the experiment. Do not open other Internet sites.

You are now to register yourself as a participant in the experiment. In the corner to my right you see a large screen. On that large screen is now the code you should write in the box on your screen. Enter the code and press the button to continue.

If you have problems registering, please raise your hand and one of us will come to you. On the large screen in the corner you will see the number of participants who have registered. In the course of the experiment there will be some breaks while we wait for everyone to finish. The large screen will keep both me and you updated on where we are in the experiment.

3. Screen shot 2

a. Norwegian

b. English

The experiment leader will now give a brief introduction to the experiment.

When the experiment leader tells you to do so, press the button to continue.

Start experiment

will be paid at the end of the experiment if this situation is selected.

After writing the amount you wish to send press register distribution. You will then get a new screen where you are prompted to confirm the distribution or to go back to change the distribution.

In some situations, the other participant will be drawn to determine the distribution. In that case simply press the button to continue.

Once you confirm your choice in all situations where you are to make a decision you will get this screen.

When you get to that screen wait until I give you notice to proceed. We must then wait for everyone in the room to make decisions in their situations. On the wall is an overview of the progress in the experiment.

You can now proceed to part A.

When you have been through all the situations you get an overview of all choices you have made in this part of the experiment, and you are given an opportunity to make changes.

When you give a final confirmation of all these situations, you will get this screen.

When you come here you must wait until I give notice to proceed. We must then wait for everyone in the room to complete their decisions. On the wall there will be an overview of the progress of the experiment.

You can now press the button to continue to the first of these situations.

